

Ted Strickland

Governor of said State

hereby officially recognizes

MULTIPLE CHEMICAL SENSITIVITY
AWARENESS AND EDUCATION MONTH
MAY 2007

People of all ages throughout Ohio and the world have developed multiple chemical sensitivity as a result to exposure to toxic chemicals and irritants in the environment resulting in conditions that cause deteriorating health. This condition is recognized by the Americans with Disabilities Act, Social Security Administration, and the World Health Organization, among other groups.

People with this condition deserve the same rights, respect, support and help allotted to other illnesses and disabilities. I urge all Ohioans to support understanding, education, and research into the causes, treatment and prevention of multiple chemical sensitivity.

ON THIS FIRST DAY OF MAY,
TWO THOUSAND SEVEN.

Ted Strickland
